

Agenda

Workshop: Participatory Research Methods

Date: November 14 - 18, 2022

Venue: Jagori Grameen, Sidhbari

Lecturers: Assoc. Prof. Shewli Kumar, Tata Institute of Social Sciences
Prof. Rinie Schenck, University of the Western Cape

Participants: Phd-Students from TISS and UWC
Staff members of Jagori Grameen, Sidhbari

Assignments Podcast / Rinie's book

Material Pen and paper, sensible shoes, rain jacket

Day	Activity	Venue
Monday, morning	Welcome Welcome and introduction Prof. Kumar History and mission of Jagori Grameen Abha Bhaiya	Main Hall
Monday, afternoon	Training session I Data collection Prof. Schenck	Main Hall
Monday, evening	Training session II Access to the field Prof. Schenck	Main Hall
Tuesday, morning	Preparing for the field visit Checking equipment, forming teams	Main Hall
Tuesday, daytime	Field exposure Collecting data on plastic waste in the villages	Selected villages
Tuesday, evening	Debrief Share data collection experiences Prof. Kumar	Main Hall
Wednesday, daytime	Continuation of data collection	Villages
Wednesday, evening	Documentation of collected data	Various rooms
Thursday, morning	Continuation of data collection	Selected villages
Thursday, afternoon	Data collation and evaluation	Various rooms
Thursday, evening	Work on draft report and presentation	Various rooms
Friday	Workshop participation Presentation of findings, discussion with stake-holders, planning further activity Facilitation: Prof. Schenck	Main Hall